Kinen (Commemoration) Seminar

Sunday 8th February 2015 -

Wjjf HQ World Ju-Jitsu Federation UK

A foggy start to the day did not dampen the enthusiasm of so many people wanting to pay their respects to Soke Robert Clark. Despite the weather, students and former colleagues of Soke Clark arrived in droves. The air was filled with an incredible excitement and anticipation as the morning training began with the juniors taking to the mat with the next young generation of our coaches leading the way.

At just after 12.30, Kancho Robert Hart invited everyone into the Dojo and spoke about the journey of the WJJF so far, introducing the new commemorative badge and DVD. He thanked Soke Clark's family for their kindness in donating Soke's personal effects for the display, everyone for attending, both internationally and across the UK, also thanking those who had sent gifts and best wishes along with their apologies for not being able to attend, then asked our president Shike G.S. Bertoletti to say a few words.

Shike Bertoletti spoke passionately about his friend and colleague, the late Soke Clark and again thanked everyone for their support and respect to a great martial artist.

It was then time to unveil the Robert Clark memorial. In unison, all three blinds were raised to a hushed crowd. The atmosphere was electrifying and for a full minute there was no sound other than rapturous applause. The whole scene had a humbling intimate feel as everyone then bowed to the memorial. The memorial was stunning and everyone had a chance to walk past to see the display closer, as well as leave a message in the book of remembrance.

Many former friends, instructors and students spoke about their experiences and memories of Soke Clark to each other. Where it all began, where they trained with him, how they helped with the Dojo they were standing in, different experiences and memories and some humorous stories lightening up the mood.

It was then time for our adult students to take to the mat, led by master grades. For two hours they were taught various techniques and by the time they came off the mat they looked exhausted but invigorated.

Huge thanks must go to all those behind the scenes who organized this event. They must pat themselves on the back for an extremely well-run day. The whole event was not tastelessly ostentatious nor pretentious but a fitting tribute to Soke's dojo and the great martial artist he was.

Yours in the spirit of WJJF Ju-Jitsu

In Robert Clark's "home"

Liverpool Fazakerley Sunday 8th February 2015

To remember a "great travel companion", with whom I have shared about 36 years, for better or for worst is not easy.

Believe me! This "museum" has been built in the dojo created by Soke Dai Robert Clark, requested by the students and created by Kancho Robert Hart, (in agreement with the family, widow Mrs Clark and daughter Jennifer Jane), who in 2013 took over the running of the WJJF and what is now called the "Clark Centre", a fitting tribute.

I have reflected that many "with high dan levels" they should have attended to remember the great sensei, who gave a lot, giving many opportunities of jobs to many unknown people, elevating them in status. "Those who did not attend may regret for a long time".

I have a particular feeling about the celebrations and those that are not following the Confucian spirit, and in a certain sense have moved this way for centuries in martial arts.

The master of 10 thousands generations, Confucius (551 B.C. – 479 B.C.) his birth 27 August says "the celebrations are used to keep the family together in time, and not to sanctify the power or ask favours, or give more weight in memory of a great man".

Confucius was a humble man, convinced that nobody even himself, deserved the adulation of worship. In addition on one occasion he said, the greatest reverence doesn't want the ostentation.

I do not like what many are doing with the ideas of Soke Dai Clark and the use of so many pictures putting themselves on display.

Four are the vices that should be eradicate: the preconception, arbitrary decisions, obstinacy, selfishness. Confucius believed that the great virtue, (Latin virtus) was that of the Humanity.

Reflections!!

This has been realised with the genuine intent of remembering a great friend and a sensei for all of you Soke Robert Clark and the willing to preserve during the time his teaching which he has done during his life.

The registration of the “Foundation” is in the name of Natascia Argia Bertoletti, who will follow in the future the task in maintaining intact the name of the Foundation and of the Federation Wjjf/Wjjko.

The “Foundation” represents the “first stone” necessary to build the basis of the future social activities and of solidarity in name of the Soke Clark and that will begin at the Congress Wjjf/Wjjko that will be in Belfast the 20-22 February 2015, with the support of Ms Beryl Miao, who with me has spent almost 40 years connected with Soke Clark.

The Congress in Belfast will be the occasion to give a contribution and support to the initiative of the “Foundation”, to remember greatly the name and the willing of my travel companion, Dai Soke Robert Clark (1946-2012).

Kind regards

The Japanese Adventure

I took to my Pasqua del Budo in Milan (1981), the masters Kazuo Kitada and Koichi Inoue, son of the 18° Patriarch Soke Inoue Tsuyoshi Munetoshi (1925-2014).

This initiative was inside a wide subject of cooperation with the Federations of Budo of the Yogo-Ken (Prefecture of Yogo)/Kobe, thanks of the good cooperation with so-shihan, grand Master Eiji Ogashara (2011) and Minaki Kyoshu Saburo, in that time 18° soke also of the Hontai Yoshin Ryu.

Minaki sensei, hit by a tumour at the stomach, had to renounce at the Milan trip. Few later, with the ceremony called Densho-shiki; so-shihan, Eiji Ogashara gave in name of the Wjjf, Clark/Bertoletti the 9° dan honoris causa to soke Minaki. Wjjf, passage of the secrets certified of the school, Soke Minaki left as the heredity his 4 schools to students and not!

With Soke Dai, Robert Clark (1946-2012), “Bob”, we decided to come back at the origin of the jujitsu and so we started the Nippon adventure.

From the school of the Yoshin Ryu, one of ko-ryu (old) in the Japan of the samurai, we have the Nage-no-kata, the structure of the projections, that the same Proff. Jigoro Kano (1860-1938), put inside his program of his Kodokan Judo.

Hontai Yoshin Ryu The origin (Banzai Internationa 1987 pag 40, n° 1)

The founder of this art, Hontai Yoshin Ryu Ju Jitsu, was Mr Oriemon Shigetoshi Takagi, who was born of Mr Sanzaemon Inatobi, a retainer of Kojuro Katakura, feudoal lord of Oshu-Shiraishi clan (who resided in the northern part of Japan). During his childhood he was known as “Umon”.

“Umon” studied under Danemon Muto an instructor in Kyochi-ryu. Sojutsu (Spearfighting) who was the retainer of General Yoshihide in Hidachi and became more than adept at the art.

His father, Sanzaemon Inatobi, who was master of the Shiraishi feudal clan, had been attacked in the dark and had met a violent death, and “Umon” felt obliged to avenge his fathers’ death.

Following this he changed his name to Mr. Oriemon Shigetoshi Yoshin Ryu and followed his father’s adage of “A willow is flexible but a high tree is breakable”.

Umanosuke Shigesada Tagaki succeeded to Oriemon Shigetoshi Takagi, originating the art of controlling enemies by empty hand techniques, and named this art Hontai Yoshin Ryu Takagi ju jitsu.

The 3rd Master Gennoshin Hideshige Takagi exchanged the art with Kihei Shingenobu Ohkuni (4th Master of Kukushin ryu Bo jutsu – cudgel paly) and since that time these arts, Yoshin Ryu, Takagi Ryu ju jitsu and Kukishin Ryu Bo jutsu have succeeded in becoming some of the most sought after arts in Japan.

Today’s master, Mr. Tsuyoshi Munetoshi Inoue, who has inherited all the knowledge and skill from this great school, has pledged himself to the traditional history of this Ryu.

Founder: Oriemon-Shigetoshi Takagi, 2nd Master: Umannanosuke-Shigesada Takagi, 3rd Gennoshin-Hideshige Takagi, 4th Kihei-Shigenobu Ohkuni, 5th Yakuro-Nobutoshi Ohkuni, 6th Tarodaiyu-Tadanobu Ohkuni, 7th Kihei-Yoshisada Ohkuni, 8th Yozaemon-Yoshisada Ohkuni, 9th Jinnai-Sadahide Nakayama, 10th Buemon-Hidenobu Ohkuni, 11th Kazaemon-Sadatashi Nakayama, 12th Kamaji-Hidetoshi Ohkuni, 13th Ikugoro-Hisayoshi Yagi, 14th Takeo-Masatsugu Hhiya, 15th Matsumaro- Masatsugu Hhiya, 16th Happeita-Masatayoshi Minaki, 18th Tsuyoshi-Munetoshi Inouye

As you can see by the title "proof of the program" we mean as a theory. It is really a miracle that 1.250 hours before the Italian Cup we already have a detailed program even if only a proof. Surely there will be some modifications due to the number of the inscriptions, gym or society coming, from the participation of teams and athletes from abroad, the referees and accidents that seems waiting to happen.

Concerning the meals; I have tried, to organize everything so that children and parents could be free "quite soon".

It is important to remember that since the event started 28 years ago, when Master Vairo Bacaro set up this initiative of the seminar and Italian Cup of Ju Jitsu, it has grown more and more. It is not simply to concentrate in two days, a lot of people masters, competitions, all trying to facilitate different experiences. Our goal is to speed two years of "SLOW JITSU" with old and new friends and not that one to hurry up to go home.

"For the mountaineers the happiness is not in the top, but in the climb. On the contrary they could take the helicopter." (Luciano De Crescenzo "I pensieri di Bellavista").
