On ko chi shin

Remember the old to understand the new

Dear friends, shihan, sensei, apprentices,

We should remember that in November 1976 the WJJF UK was born, thanks to Soke Robert Clark (1946/2012). Unfortunately "Bob," to his friends, has left us, however we still have a general heritage: his brand of Ju Jitsu made in WJJF & now WJJKO.

We no longer have his support to the structure, for which he dedicated his entire life. I do not want to enter into conflict with the person who today, is shielding the right to manage the dojo of Liverpool for himself.

That person, in 1976, 1986, 1996, 2006, until February 2013, was not in management and so he cannot know the real history- what was done before and after is written- but yes, YOU were there!!

We wish to remember the distant 18/19 November 1976, proposing to you an invitation to stay together, to work and toil, to talk about the past which saw us as young and ambitious and now, with wisdom and experience, looking as though we are separate and walking our different ways:

"I have two lives: mine ... and that which the other people are inventing!!"

It will be for me, and for every one of us belonging to the "new" and old "guard" - an honour to have you as the first of the class "ichi ban"

Sincerely yours

Giacomo Spartaco Bertolotti
Wjjf/Wjjko International President

Under the Liechtenstein prince's name

Also the seminar in Valtice (Czech Republic) is finished.

Thanks to the cooperation of Ceska – headed by Ivan Gibala, and the Slovenian, shihan Harsanyi Csaba we have had an excellent seminar where the quality of the masters:

- Ivan Gibala (5° dan hanshi)
- Harsanyi Csaba (7° dan)
- Vikartóczy Gusztáv

- Wolfgang Linert shihan and Gsb gave to the participants the best of what a technical seminar could give.

In this region of wines and castles of the prince of Liechtenstein has been a great pleasure to find the "old spirit" of the simple things. Which for a long time even I have forgotten.

It has not been since in Modra (Slovakia) with Ladislav Mocik, that we have met in a simple place –only full of noble inspirations and intents.

The Ceremony of the delivery of the dan menjio, to shihan Harsanyi Csaba (Slovakia) and Vikartóczy Gusztáv (Hungary) 7° dan, nana dan, and not less important the qualification (denshi) to Ivan Gibala di Hanshi – to whom will follow the 6° dan, has given the "touche de classe" We have to remember that we have travelled thousands of kilometres for many years with Bob(1946/2012), around Europe to promote ju jitsu but overall the Federation, in the area of the Balcans.

And for this we must remember Soke Franz Strauss (1933/2014) who has opened the way for us via Vienna.

Two great personae Clark/Strauss who only in the memory could be also greater, the satisfaction for me is in seeing that the Wjjf/Wjjko is not thinking only to cold numbers, but is estimating the simple job, humble and concrete which has to push people to meditate, with the flutter of our flag.

Self defence experts explain how clothing can take down a terrorist

Atlanta

If a terrorist tries to take over a train, plane or MARTA rail-line, what would you do?

"Yes, I would fight. Because God is good and I know he's watching us," said Amtrak passenger Dillard Cole.

"I think I would fight back," another Amtrak passenger, Leola Champion, said. Instructors at Roswell-based Self Defense Atlanta say a passenger could use a newspaper as a club, a cell phone or a purse to hit or throw, a belt to whip or choke, a pen to stab, keys to hit and scratch, a jacket to cover a terrorists head to disorient and punch a wallet to the throat.

A British tourist on a French train used his neck-tie to hog-tie a suspected terrorist, but experts say a tie can be used to choke a terrorist.

But what about the freeze factor?

"If I train hundreds and hundreds of times, I'm going to get over that," Self Defense Atlanta Director Pertti Kangas said.

Jim O'Day, an instructor from Self Defense Atlanta says it's important that someone in the group who leads the attack yells out commands. "Tell people what to do, break them out of their fear because they've just had a huge adrenaline dump, they're shaking, but if you give them sound direction and very specific direction, they're going to respond to that. They're looking for a leader, and they're going to help in that situation." Copyright 2015 WGCL-TV (Meredith Corporation). All rights reserved.

The Italian Journalist Martial Artist

by Don Warrener

Spartaco Bertoletti is a martial artist practitioner in jujitsu, who trained in Japan in the traditional Yoshin Ryu style. He is International President of the World Ju Jitsu Federation (WJJF-WJJKO) and is based as the general secretariat, in Milan, Italy.

He began martial arts training at the age of 12, with Graeco-Roman wrestling and fencing (foil), and later with judo and kendo. In 1960 he practiced karate Shokukai, Sankudo and Sankukai with Master Jean Michael Baroche, one of the first black belt students of Master Yoshinao Nanbu. He practiced Shotokan in the school of Master Hiroshi Shirai (yudanshakai) and Masaru Miura, and Shito Ryu with So Shihan Ogasahara Eiji (Kenshukai).

In 1976, with the founding and leadership of the World Ju Jitsu Federation, he started his long trips to Japan, along with Soke Robert Clark (1946/2012). He joined the school Hontai of Saburo Masanori Minaki, 17th Patriarch, thanks to the presentation of So Shihan Eiji Ogasahara, where he remained until Soke Minaki's death in 1986. In 1997 he received 8th dan by Soke/Sosai Kunio Tatsuno of the Sheshinkai of Osaka. In 2004 Paul Hoglund, President, International Ju Jitsu Federation, awarded him the 9th dan. His career culminated in Venice on April 2005, in the granting of 5th Shike title of the school Kodan Enshinryu Honmon Enshinryu-Bujutsu, an honorary and dynastic title that only a few western persons have attained.

Honati Yoshin-ryu is a traditional (koryu) school of Japanese martial arts founded by Takagi Shigetoshi. The present headmaster (soke) is Inoue Kyoichi Munenori who succeeded his father Inoue Tsuyoshi Munetoshi. The handover occurred on 16 January 2005. The system teaches unarmed grappling arts and various weapons arts including jujutsu, bojutsu, hanbojutsu, iaijutsu, and kenjutsu. Although there are a limited number of official Hontai Yoshin-ryu schools around the world, many westerners have benefited from study at the headquarters in Japan, and the influence on the development of modern jujutsu is significant. The Hontai stays true to its values and traditions and does not advocate commercialization.

Bertoletti's legacy lies in the respectful relationship he has maintained with Japanese jujitsu masters, in the founding and worldwide development of the World Ju Jitsu Federation (WJJF), and in the thousands of students actively involved in learning and networking.

But the biggest contribution he has made to martial arts in all of Europe and especially in Italy is his magazine which is one of the first in all of Europe Samurai (bored od 1976) an Sportivo (born 1982) which caters to all martial arts not just karate or Ju Jitsu.

chael Dudikoff, Roberto Arevalo, interpreters of the Ninja Turtles and others ... Obviously, the Master will spend the rest of the day in The Academy in Beverly Hills with Grand Master Rigan Machado, for technical upgrades and some lessons to his black belts, as well as for planning the future. It 's the first time that an Italian martial artist is called directly in USA for something like that, but Master Antonio la Salandra , already blue jacket WJJKO, is the first foreigner to take care of the training of the Pontifical Swiss Guard's Instructors for the Holy Father's Security. We will publish the report after the complete trip.

It's a Family Affair

What is so great about sport and Martial Arts specifically, is the way in which it can really bind the family together. People unite in a common goal or interest and that is certainly what happened when the whole community came together to make a success of the Open Day held for the headquarters of WJJF/WJJKO in Ireland at the Dojo in Ballymena.

The idea was to attract local publicity to the Art and ensure that everyone had the opportunity to come down and see the facility and how they could benefit from it. The Federation likes to promote all aspects of Health and Well-being and so some alternative therapy stalls were set up for students and parents to try out, while the youngest members of the community were treated to what has become WJJF/KO Ireland's own 'brand' of entertainment for kids: trying out the punch bags and training equipment with the help of a guest instructor – Spiderman no less! A 'bouncy assault course' was also brought in for the day as the children respond best to all types of activity when they are having fun. To add to the adventure for the day, there was a guest appearance from 'Elsa' from the popular Disney movie 'Frozen' – the only Disney movie to promote a self-reliant female heroine, which is a great mentor for our girls and our FiMA section. And the piece de resistance of the day was a visit from our little friend –Summer the NI Children's Hospice Therapy Horse, whom all the kids absolutely adore. The open day was a great success, with mothers of students baking a selection of great goodies and a local long-established retailer of the town 'McGrogans', providing some of their delicious ice-cream free. Some local women who make hand-crafted goods also put on displays to sell their wares, one of which specialized in the Japanese art of Origami, and taught some of our children how to make their very own Ninja Stars from paper. It was a little break from the traditional work that is done on the mats, but the buzz and excitement it has created has already started to generate enquiries to the dojo's facebook page of people wishing to start the art. We believe it takes a whole community to raise a child – however the most basic principles of Martial Arts: discipline and respect are a very good place to start.
