National Convention for WJFF-WJJKO in Ireland

This year's February Convention, held in Valley Leisure Centre, N. Ireland was a tremendous success- with numbers being even greater than last year - 250 adults in the morning, and a massive 350 kids in the afternoon! Students who attended gave excellent feedback and thoroughly enjoyed the variety of training on the mats, given by our expert guest instructors.

There was an appearance from The Lord Mayor of the Borough, and our special character friends in the form of Star Wars (501st Rebel Garrison) Captain America and Deadpool turned up to support the fundraising! These guys really added to the fun and atmosphere of the day and were only too happy to have 'selfies' taken with the delighted children, and adults alike! A total of £1500 was raised for the NI Children's Hospice in memory of Jack Bleakney, our instructors' little baby, who used the service - with donations still coming in.

Students and the amazed audience were treated to the superb talents of 3 amazing demo teams:

Kennedy Ju-Jitsu -(Niamh Duff, Sasha & Varja Peters and Gareth Ward) runners-up of our previous demo competition presented a Ju-Jitsu demo with the theme of anti-bullying.

One very slight young lady took on her three larger attackers as they picked on her, demonstrating her excellent self defence skills.

Fermanagh Ju-Jitsu - our own Darth Gawley (Master Lyle Gawley dressed as Sith, Darth Maul) demonstrated his expert Kata skills with a light sabre.

The fantastic finale of this was when his two young sons - Conor and Daniel stepped up from the audience to fight him and ended up cutting off his head! And our own Shike Giacomo Spartaco Bertoletti, making the audience gasp, as always, with his swordmanship. Unexpectedly we also had an impromptu appearance from 3 of our own instructors - Kevin McCloskey, Sam Mitchell and Leona McKee, who have travelled the Globe to train with Shike. He elected them that morning to practice alongside him, and the result was an electric performance with the katana - showing the true skill and showmanship of our Shike.

130 members attended our Convention dinner that evening, with special guests of Shike Bertoletti, Shihan Stefano Draghi, Kai cho Amir Barnea, along with So-shihan Dave Flaherty & Master Helen Travis with WJJKO GB delegation.

Representatives from our newest club in Achill Island were welcomed to their first event.

Of our Ireland instructors - 9 received Bronze Long Service Award for 10 years plus, 17 received Silver (15-24yrs) and 16 received Gold for 25 plus years. 30 yrs and above were given special commendation.

Master Sean Corr from the host club, Valley Ju-Jitsu Club, & his team, were commended for their help in setting up the training event. Presentations gifts were given to our special guests and Shike Bertoletti presented Kai cho Toney with a beautiful trophy award to acknowledge him for his hard work and efforts in respect of WJJF-WJJKO 1976 .

Very successful Kodan and Krav Maga courses were held on the last day of the weekend. It is fantastic to see these two coaches – the legend Shike Bertoletti, and head of WJJF Israel, Amir Barnea performing to this high a skill level in their respective specialist fields. Feedback from both courses was really excellent, with all participants going home feeling that they had made brilliant use of their time in updating and widening their skills. A private memorial was held at the Torii Gate dedicated to the founder of our Federation, in the Mezzanine area of Ireland’s headquarters ‘The dojo’ – a few silent moments of respect by those attending the events and Senior coaches, for the man who we are indebted to, for designing the syllabus we all use, and showing us the way – Soke Robert Clark. The spirit lives on.. Oss Kodan in Belfast, one year later!

Under the spirit of the the Tengu
Belfast, Sunday 25 February 2018
You would think it would be hard to get back, into your hands the bakuto/katana one year later. But... I had to change my idea... there was absolute attention from the keen students who wanted to learn a part of the long history of the traditional Ken Jutsu tradizionale, (gekken = Japanese sword fancy).

It was founded by a Japanese Imperial Guard, INUGAMI SAKON-NO-SHOGEN NAGAKATSU in senjoku-jidai (the age of civil wars, around the 15th Century).

The chief distinction of the school is, using ohdachi (nodachi, very long sword, often used in those days), and the fusion of kenjutsu (swordsmanship) and jujutsu (fighting).

Ireland is the land of legendary creatures, in the same way the Kodan, has the Tengu.

The sword and the zen are only one thing

The TENGU, the legendary creature with long nose, beard, and more: it is said that they live in the forests and in the mountains.

According to the legend, the TENGU forged many katana, Japanese swords, which were lucky and of very artistic design.

It is transmitted that one of these swords was stolen from a TENGU by a BUSHI, warrior MUNEMORI (SHIN KAGE RYU) one of the 3 biggest swordsmen and lover of the sword in the history of the Empire DAMASHI= Japan in the period between 1500/1600.

The spirit (shin) of the TENGU did not find peace ‘til the BUSHI, warrior, who stole the sword, was killed.

The katana, went back in a stone and the TENGU followed to protect it. Under the direction of David Toney (Joden Menkyo) and GSB, as 5° Shike the alternate techniques of kyon; and kata; jimongi “no enemies” the base of every kata and ju ichi “the obligation of loyalty”. Good the spirit of the two yudansha shoden: Kevin McCloskey and Sam Mitchell and Leona McKee mudansha – sho-den

See you soon And why not, with more uniformity. Oss!

Organisation Profile

Our History:
Traditionally, Nepal had a slow pace in term promoting and developing sports within the country. With a vision to promote the awareness of the karate as an inclusive sport (i.e. opportunity of Nepalese people for all socio-economic background), NKKDA was established by Shihan Janak Subedi in year 2000. Shihan. Subedi started his martial art training between 1984 to 1988 under supervision of Sensei Jagat Gauchan. He then moved to Korea to train in Taekwondo between 1988 to 1991 under the guidance of Shihan Mr. Shing and later, moved to Japan to train in Kyokushin between 1991 to 1995 with Mas. Oyama in his Central Dojo. He returned to Nepal and was involved in Shito-Ryu Karate from 1995 to 2000.

Upon return to Nepal, Shihan. Subedi became more aware of the necessity to develop sport in the region. NKKDA was established with a mission, recognising a significant amount of work needs to be done to increase the level of awareness about the karate including reaching out the regional part of the country. One of the biggest challenges in developing Karate in Nepal has been a lack of clear vision, insufficient financial and technical support. As a result, in the past, Nepalese karate players have not been able to do what they can regardless of the willingness to learn and grow. Also, lack of coordination and not being able to increase partnership in an international and national has been the biggest hurdle for Nepalese Karate. NKKDA, from the very early start, aimed to address these issues and uplift the state of Karate in Nepal.

NKKDA reached its first milestone when it successfully organised an international World Karate Confederation championship in Kathmandu in 2005. Nepalese Karate players got an opportunity to demonstrate their skills and the international karate was able to see the good potential for development of Karate in the region. Over the course of the period, there has been a huge improvement with the state of karate in Nepal. Nepalese players have set a great record in S.A.F. games and exhibited their potentials in some international competitions like (ASIAD) Asian Games, W.K.C Championships, Kwanmukan Karate Championships etc.

1.1 Kwanmukan Karate Style History

The Kwanmukan Master George E. Anderson, who learned the style of Korean Karate known as the Song Moo Kwan (derived from Japanese Shotokan), founded the Kwanmukan as we know it today. Based on the Shotokan, but with kobudo, aikido, judo and jujitsu considered, the Kwanmukan is the synthesis of these various martial arts. Comprising all the excellent qualities of Mr. Anderson's prior learnings, without attaching undue importance to any particular one, he has made Kwanmudo accessible to any person by a method of training suited for today's times. First, he has continued with that which is traditional in the methods of the old schools, but he has refreshed it with a modern understanding. Secondly, the teachings of the various schools were systematized after having been examined scientifically, and from the principles underlying the techniques of the various schools were concluded, the principles upon which a new system of training was established. It is not too much to say that Kwanmudo combines the highly spiritual phase of the martial arts with the excellent technical aspects of the discipline. Philosophical Insights Into Kwanmudo IA Commentary on the Philosophical Foundation of Kwan Mu Karate is moving zen. Enlightenment or Satori is the dynamic spirit of zen. It is not Zen itself, but the result of Zen training. Koans (kung an) epitomize the single path (do) or way followed by the enlightened man. They are his recorded principles and awake in man the unique spiritual qualities of enlightenment. In karate, and Kwan Mu specifically, the three efforts (kata) permit the experience of kensho – seeing into one's own true nature – in the fundamental practice (effort) of the kata. In this sense the translation of kata is an attempt to demonstrate clear understanding.

2.0 Our objectives

The objectives of NKKDA are to:

Encourage and support the organisation, establishment, maintenance and development of Martial arts throughout Nepal, and to provide an accessible and affordable sports education, directly (though not exclusively) through member organisation to enable people from all backgrounds to overcome assumed barrier to learning and spread awareness on the importance of the sports education to the diverse Nepalese society.

Develop and conduct programs, projects and initiatives to include individuals from diverse background, particularly, understanding of the geographical complexity, cultural and linguistic diversity of Nepal.

Aim to enable people to overcome geographical isolation and encourage individuals to the martial arts, well-being; and do other things incidental or conducive to the furtherance of its objects.

NKKDA's approach to corporate governance is based on a set of values and behaviours that underpin day-to-day activities, provide transparency, and protect the interests of stakeholders. This approach includes a commitment to corporate governance excellence, which NKKDA sees as fundamental to its sustainability and performance.

NKKDA is governed in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, Constitution of NKKDA, NKKDA Governance Charter, and the Board Governance Charter, all of which are available to Members and the public at www.NKKDA.org.np. Of note, the Board has formally committed NKKDA to adopt and apply as appropriate the principles and recommendations of Good Governance Principles as the basis for NKKDA's corporate governance framework.

3. Board Responsibilities

On behalf of the stakeholders, especially the Members and clients, the Board is responsible for the stewardship and future well-being of NKKDA. The Board should exercise leadership, enterprise, integrity and judgement in directing NKKDA so as to provide assurance of its continuing and lasting prosperity. NKKDA is a company limited by guarantee. Its purposes are made clear in its constitution. Board members should apply and endeavour to achieve the highest possible standards of corporate governance. The Board should always discharge its responsibilities in a manner based on transparency, accountability and responsibility.

In discharging their responsibilities the Board, and individual Board members, have a duty to act in the best interests of NKKDA as a whole, irrespective of personal, professional, commercial or other interests, loyalties or affiliations. When serving as Board members, members' first duty and loyalty must be to NKKDA rather than to any constituency or nominating or appointing body.

Governance defined – the role of the Board

Governance might be described as:

The exercise of establishing and monitoring necessary controls and strategic direction setting so that the organisation is equipped to respond to the changing circumstances and situations in the external and internal environments in order to meet the expectations and demands of members and other key stakeholders. The Board establishes the organisation's mission, values, goals and objectives, employs the President, identifies and monitors the management of corporate risks and monitors and assesses President and organisation performance.

In brief, governance involves the Board in the process of ensuring that NKKDA is well managed without the Board itself becoming involved in the operations except as required by its legislation or as a consequence of exceptional circumstances.

Governance is different from Management

Whereas the Board sets governance-level policies and establishes the strategic direction including the development of the organisation purpose, values and the organisation-wide goals and objectives, the President designs and manages the processes that ensure that these are honoured or met. The President is thus the agent of the Board. The Board then is responsible for determining the 'What' and the 'Why' and the President is responsible for determining the 'How'.

Another way to consider the difference between the two roles is to think of the Board's role being to determine organisational 'Ends' and the President's role to design the "Means" to achieve those ends.

Two levels of organisational policy

a) Governance-level policy. Policies at this level are developed and adopted by the Board and relate to high-level, organisation-wide matters. These include policies in respect of the Board's operating processes and duties, and its delegation to the President in areas such as finances, human resources management, public affairs and asset management. These policies are a reflection of the Board's desire to meet its duty of care under law and its moral responsibility to provide good governance on behalf of all interested parties.

b) Management-level policy. These are developed by the President and relate to the operational management of the organisation. The Board is not required to approve policies at this level. Management-level policies flow logically from the governance policies.

World Ju Jitsu Federation (Italy) and Aics (Sports Promotion Body Recognized By The Coni) Discipline Of Ju Jutsu, together, with only one

scope : expanding the martial culture

Shike Giacomo Spartaco Bertoletti, 9th Dan, Co-Founder of the World Ju Jitsu Federation, is part of the history of Jujitsu in the World, an excellent representative of the Syllabus, the Ju Jitsu method, codified by the late Soke Robert Clark

Soke Carlo Alberto Pari, 8th Dan Ju Jitsu, 8th Dan karate, - Technical Director AICS Ju Jitsu and Bu Jutsu (Martial Arts), coded the Jujitsu Modern Method Pari (JJMMP), one of the four methods accepted in the World Ju Jitsu Federation in Italy, & led among other things our Arts in the University (Pegaso University Higher Education Course, recognized by MIUR, "Teaching Personal Defense in the modern society" 60 CFU).

The XXV ° AICS Technical Training and master class (Associazione Italiana Cultura Sport) is the longest-running multidisciplinary course of the Italian Martial Arts, founded and directed by a quarter of a century, by the Master Carlo Alberto Pari.

Fifty Technicians, or aspiring Technicians, enrolled at the XXVth AICS Bu Jutsu and Ju Jitsu Technical Training and master class, had the opportunity, on Saturday 17 February 2018, to participate at a single event. After the "Taiso", directed by Soke Pari, an hour and a half of training with Shike Giacomo Spartaco Bertoletti, who has explained in detail ICHI NO KATA of Syllabus, the first kata of Go Kyo (five techniques) of the Sho Bu group (Defense / attack), which is nothing but a concept of grammar, suitable for all the different interpretations of Ju Jitsu, from traditional to modern.

Shike Bertoletti was masterfully assisted by Shihan Giancarlo Koliotassis. The goal of the lesson: let the technicians know the first part of the motor alphabet of a method practiced all over the world (53 countries affiliated to the WJJF). Subsequently, Soke Carlo Alberto Pari, directed the last part of the training day, teaching techniques of JJMMP (Ju Jitsu Modern Method Pari), with bare hands in the initial part, armed, in the second part, ending with the explanation of legal instruments used to defend, in this case, firearms, short and long, to their legal uses for the purposes of Self-Defense at home, ending with notions about the operative shoot, safety positions, tactical and emergency changes of shippers, ammunition "Less Than Lethal".

A unique training day, inserted in a training context, which highlights the multidisciplinary cultural goal, of great depth and openness, which aims at excellence, a true "University" of Martial Arts, whose only goal is to implement culture and technical knowledge, while maintaining the ethics of the Arts, enhancing and not opposing the technical and cultural differences.
